

OUTLINE POLICY OF CONSERVATION

Democrats Will Be Forced by President to Pass Five Big Measures.

WIDE FIELD IS COVERED

Early Action Is to Be Urged to Offset Criticisms Made by Colonel Roosevelt.

Washington, D. C., June 8.—To offset criticism by Col. Roosevelt of the failure of the democrats to pass conservation legislation, President Wilson will insist that the house pass five measures now before it, thus beginning the most comprehensive public development program in the history of the country.

After passing the house, if the president finds the indications good for a speedy passage in the senate, he may demand the adjournment of congress.

To carry out the president's wishes, the house committee on rules will meet this week to make the conservation bills privileged business until they are passed. These measures will be considered:

1. The Ferris bill, providing for the leasing of water power sites in the public domain and forest reserves to private parties.

2. The Ferris bill providing for the leasing and development of coal lands in Alaska.

3. The Foster bill providing for the development of the radium resources of the country.

4. The Kent bill proposing a new system for leasing public lands for grazing purposes.

5. The Smith bill extending the period of payment under reclamation projects.

Omit One Important Item.

It will be seen that the program does not contain a measure for the control of water power sites on navigable rivers. This omission is due to the failure of Secretary Garrison of the war department and Representative Adamson of Georgia, chairman of the house committee on interstate and foreign commerce, to reach an agreement on the principles involved.

Congressman Adamson is strongly in favor of state's rights, and does not want to strengthen the provisions of the general dam act, under which water power sites have been given away gratis to the power trust in the past.

Secretary Garrison proposes a plan by which the states and the federal government will cooperate to conserve the water power of the country and to preserve it from the raids of the power trust.

Good Health From Right Food.

"It's not a new food to me," remarked a Virginia man, "in speaking of Grape-Nuts."

"About twelve months ago my wife was in very bad health, and could not keep anything on her stomach. The doctor recommended milk, half water, but it was not sufficiently nourishing. A friend of mine told me one day to try Grape-Nuts and cream. The result was really marvelous. My wife soon regained her usual strength and today is as rosy and plump as when a girl of 18."

"These are plain facts and nothing I could say in praise of Grape-Nuts would exaggerate in the least the value of this great food."

The New Perfection Range
With the "Fireless Cooker" Oven

It is the triumph of the NEW PERFECTION line, a splendid range with a cabinet top and an insulated THERMO oven that stops the loss of heat by radiation, a fault common to all other stoves.

This keeping the heat out of the kitchen and in the oven saves fuel. One burner does the work of two. You can have intense, quick heat, or slow and steady, as you want it.

After thorough heating the THERMO oven holds heat six or seven hours, which makes it the most perfect and convenient fireless cooker ever invented. The cabinet top has a spacious warming shelf, there is space behind the burner for keeping food hot. And don't overlook the special NEW PERFECTION broiler, supplied with this range, which broils on both sides at once, increasing tenderness and flavor.

Keeps the kitchen cool. Best of all, this range, burning clean, convenient,

With victory in sight the leaders of the present Mexican revolution are unwilling to concede anything to Huerta to bring about a cessation of hostilities. They fail to see how mediation can help them in any way. Among those who favor keeping up hostilities until Huerta is driven out are Generals Carranza and Villa, General Angeles, who is in charge of the rebel artillery, and General Chao, who is governor of the state of Chihuahua.

DAY IN DAVENPORT

Gangster Sent to Eldora—Eddie Burke, the 15-year-old boy arrested for robbing the W. B. Wiley grocery store, 207 Brady street, Friday night, was sent to Eldora. He had previously been committed to that institution, but is said to have escaped, according to the authorities. Daniel O'Neill, the colored boy, also a member of the gang, was arraigned in probate court. Harold Willey and George Foster, the other boys held as accomplices in the grocery burglary, were able to prove an alibi and were liberated. Friday night the kid gang broke into the store, using a jimmy on the rear window and stealing a large quantity of smoking tobacco.

Runaway Girl Taken by Police—Elsie Polkine, an 18-year-old girl from Viator, Iowa, is occupying a room in the house of detention, following a brief but checkered fling at the gay life. The girl, who is said to come from an excellent family, tired of the humdrum life on the farm and went to Waterloo where she worked three weeks. When the carnival came, she became infatuated with one of the actors and joined the troupe, coming to Davenport with him. The man promised to marry the girl, but refused when they reached this city. She then fell in love with a man named Otto Heuck, and another marriage was arranged. Sunday morning the police saw the girl entering a Second street rooming house carrying a suitcase and made an investigation. The authorities state that Heuck was in the room. The girl was placed under arrest pending an investigation. The police expect to wire her parents and ascertain whether or not they consider Heuck in the light of a desirable family acquisition.

Club Now on Paying Basis—The Commercial club, after showing a yearly deficit ever since its organization, is at last on a paying basis, as evidenced by the report of Secretary L. C. Norwood made to the board of directors. The organization suffered a net loss of $4,500 in 1912 and a net loss of $1,850 in 1913, while the first five months of 1914 show a net profit of $675. Increased use of the club by its membership, increased receipts from the cafe and other sources and reduced operating expenses in all departments account for the change in club finances from the wrong side to the right side of the ledger. Present indications are that the club will close the year with an operating surplus.

In Police Court—The police have been asked to locate Jacob Braun, a tailor believed to have been a resident of this city for the past 15 years. Thus far the search has proven fruitless. The Louisville police are interested in the affair, together with John Stick of Cleveland, Ohio.

Hans Peterson sanded the motorcycle cop in Central park when the latter remonstrated with the autolator for allowing his machine to smoke. As a result he was brought down to headquarters and paid a fine of $1 and costs for violation of the auto smoke ordinance.

Blickhan in Collision—Motorcycle Cop Blickhan, while riding his machine at a fair rate of speed Saturday night, collided with a farm rig on West Fourth street. The buggy was slightly battered, but the driver, Harry McGee, who lives on Rockingham road, escaped injury. The farmer was driving on the wrong side of the street. Blickhan escaped injury.

Thieves Get Away With New Car—Thieves last Saturday night broke into the garage on the premises of Jerry Ryan, 718 West Locust street, making a successful getaway with a valuable five passenger Overland touring car, which was practically new. It is believed that the men pushed the machine out of the garage and some distance away before they cranked it and jumped in. The depredation was reported to the police but thus far no arrests have been made. The Davenport Auto club has offered a reward of $50 for the apprehension of the thieves. The number of the stolen machine was Iowa 49126.

Licensed to Wed—Harry O. Cranston of DeWitt, Iowa, and Della M. Robinson of Blue Grass.

Deserts Wife—O. S. Hammond was taken into custody by the police on a charge of wife desertion. He will be given a hearing.

Nearly the Hottest—The mercury at Davenport reached 93 Sunday, according to the report from the weather office. Peoria and Keokuk were tied at 96 for the day's heat record, and St. Louis, 94, was the only other city reporting higher temperature than Davenport.

Large Number at Walcott Shoot—An unusually large number of juveniles attended the children's bird shoot at Walcott Saturday. The total enrollment was 265, the greatest number ever participating in the event. The festival was given by Fred Phiering, proprietor of the hall. Henry Shafer, son of Henry Shafer, Sr., was king of the festival and Stella Stroben, daughter of John Stroben, was queen. This was decided by lottery and the royal pair drew gold watches as the prizes. Following the program the children danced during the afternoon. In the evening the adults took part in a dance.

Obituary Record—With the death of Julius F. Eckhardt Davenport lost one of its long time business men and Scott county one of its old residents. From the time he came to Davenport at the age of 18 years he had been actively engaged in business in the city until four years before his death.

After suffering two long years Mrs. Aselin Was Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Minneapolis, Minn.—"After my little one was born I was sick with pains in my sides which the doctors said were caused by inflammation. I suffered a great deal every month and grew very thin. I was under the doctor's care for two long years without any benefit. Finally after repeated suggestions to try it we got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After taking the third bottle of the Compound I was able to do my housework and today I am strong and healthy again. I will answer letters if anyone wishes to know about my case."—Mrs. JOSEPH ASELIN, 628 Monroe St., N.E., Minneapolis, Minn.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and today holds the record of being the most successful remedy we know for woman's ills. If you need such a medicine why don't you try it?

If you have the slightest doubt that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will help you, write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass., for advice. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

CAPT. SAM HANKS OPTIMIST AT 85

Old Riverman Predicts Revival of Traffic on the Mississippi.

Captain Samuel Hanks, of Princeton, for 50 years a Mississippi river pilot, who Saturday celebrated his 85th birthday, predicts that within five years the Mississippi will surpass its former greatness as an avenue of trade, and that steamboats for both freight and passenger service will become more numerous than ever before. Captain Hanks bases his prediction on the probable effect of the Panama canal upon river shipping and upon the improvement of the river channel and harbors now under way.

The captain by reason of his long years of service as a pilot and steamboat master, knows practically every foot of the river between St. Louis and St. Paul. He and his brother, Captain Stephen B. Hanks, of Albany, Ill., 93 years old, are among the best known of the older river men, both having served on some of the most important steamers of their time. Captain Stephen Hanks is a guest of his brother at Princeton this week. Despite their advanced ages both men enjoy good health.

Captain Samuel Hanks was born in Christian county, Kentucky, May 30, 1828. In 1847 he was married to Miss Nancy Stagg and seven sons and two daughters were born to them. One son died at Princeton and one died in the Union army in the civil war. Mrs. Hanks has also been dead for many years. One son, Frank, with whom the captain lives, is at Princeton; two, Fred and David, are in David; Leonard resides in La Crosse and Samuel is in Lafayette, Ill. One daughter, Mrs. George Metzger, resides in Florida, and the other, Mrs. Wilbur Smith in Quincy.

Captain Hanks began steamboating in 1845 when he made his first trip from St. Paul to St. Louis on a raft. For 50 years he was engaged exclusively in the business.

his last place of business being in a meat market, which he had conducted since 29 years old. He was born in Germany, June 23, 1848, and was 64 years old at the time of his death. Mr. Eckhardt was reared and educated in Germany and came to America in 1865. He was united in marriage to Miss Helena Thoenig, April 3, 1874 and to this union five daughters were born, all of whom survive. Mr. Eckhardt was also well known in fraternal circles and was one of the charter members of the Davenport lodge, No. 50, of the Knights of Pythias. After the death of his wife four years ago, he lived with his daughter, Mrs. James Courtney, 428 Pleasant street, where he passed away. He is survived by his five daughters, Mrs. James Courtney of Davenport; Mrs. Frank O'Brien of Moline; Mrs. Fred Hawkins of Davenport; Mrs. Ray Bullock of Omaha, Neb.; and Mrs. W. E. White-side of Moline. He also leaves two brothers, Jacob Eckhardt of Davenport and Henry Eckhardt of San Bernardino, Cal.

At her home in Berkeley, Cal., June 3, occurred the death of Mrs. Mary Jane Juksch, nee Oakes, a former resident of this city, in the 59th year of her age. Death followed the demise of her husband and consort, the late Edward P. Juksch, which occurred on Feb. 12, last. Her passing was the direct result of her grief over the death of her husband, to whom she was wedded here in Davenport on Sept. 25, 1873. The deceased resided here until 1901, when she removed to Berkeley, Cal., with her husband, who for many years was a prominent building contractor here, being associated with the firm of Juksch & Nobergall. There survive the following children: W. C. Juksch of Little Rock, Ark.; Edward Juksch of Davenport, Iowa; Frank Juksch of Maquoketa, Iowa; Mamie Juksch, Mrs. Grace Brown, Harry Juksch, all of Berkeley, Cal.; and Cora Webber of San Francisco, Cal. The following brothers and sisters survive: Sam Oakes, Robert Oakes, Davenport, Iowa; Mrs. E. Einfeldt, Wilton Junction, Iowa; Mrs. R. H. Graham, Davenport, Iowa. Nine grandchildren also survive.

While sitting on the porch of her home, 1123 West Sixth street Sunday evening with her son, Albert L. Schebler, Mrs. Catherine Elisabeth Schebler suddenly pitched forward without the slightest warning, falling face downward on the ground. Her son hurriedly seized his mother and placed her on the porch, while other members of the household sent for the family physician, who upon his arrival pronounced her dead. Mrs. Schebler was 73 years old at the time of her death. April 17, 1860, she was united in marriage to Frank Schebler and April 17, 1910, they celebrated their golden wedding anniversary, their daughter, Mrs. Aloise Hiegel, celebrating her silver anniversary on the same day. To Mr. and Mrs. Schebler 12 children were born, five of whom died in infancy. She is survived by seven children, the husband having preceded her in death four years. The survivors are: Frank J. C. Mrs. Aloise Hiegel, Joseph A. Rudolph V. Theodore N. E. Albert L. and Louis G. She also leaves 29 grandchildren, two great-grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Stephen Nahrung, of New Hampton, Iowa; as also a brother, William Wiegand.

Frank Theodore Henry, 38 years old, died at the family home, No. 1 Iowa flats, 225-227 West Sixteenth street. He was born at Peoria, Ill., July 23, 1876, where he received his education. He was united in marriage to Miss Jennie L. Anderson, in 1897, who now survives him. He was a faithful member of St. John's Methodist church and also of the Brotherhood. For more than 17 years he was marks a new era in flour milling. And it means more in the fight for pure foods than any other one thing that has been adopted in a hundred years. Sanitary methods of milling cannot reach beyond the mill, but Zephyr Sanisac—the sanitary dust-proof, leak-proof sack—protects the flour, so carefully produced under approved sanitary methods, and keeps it absolutely pure from taint and contamination in all its travels from the mill to your kitchen. The ordinary cloth sack is no protection against dust and dirt, against foul odors and gases. Zephyr Sanisac protects.

employed in the office of the Tri-city Railway company. He is survived by his widow and two sisters, Mrs. A. Ellis and Miss Mary Henry, both of Denver, Colo. He also leaves two brothers, Fred of Denver and Percy of Davenport.

Mrs. Annie M. Kambach, 77 years old, died at the family residence, 118 Lincoln avenue, succumbing to the infirmities of age. She was born in Germany, Dec. 27, 1836, where she was reared and educated. She was united in marriage to Valentine Kambach in Germany in 1861, and came to America with him, settling in Wisconsin in 1893. They remained in Wisconsin until one year ago, when they removed to Davenport. She is survived by her husband and four children, John and Fritz Kambach of Racine, Wis. Frank of Chicago, and Miss Eliza Kambach of Racine, Wis.

Many friends will be grieved to learn of the death of Mrs. Nelson M.

Dyer, which occurred at her home, 322 East Thirteenth street. Mrs. Dyer had been confined to her home for the past six weeks, after temporary restoration to health by an operation last June. Mrs. Dyer was 49 years of age. She was married Sept. 8, 1891, to Nelson M. Dyer, and they moved five years ago to Davenport, where Mr. Dyer has been advertising manager for W. S. Holbrook. She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Grace and Irene, and by her mother, Mrs. Susan Merickel, of Toledo, Ohio, and three brothers, Charles and Albert of Toledo, and William Merickel of Pittsburgh. Mrs. Dyer was an active church worker in St. Agatha's society and the Altar and Rosary society of Sacred Heart cathedral, and was an active member of Alberta camp, Royal Neighbors. The body will be taken to Toledo for burial.
